Guardman's Widow Files $350,000 Suit

A $350,000 damage suit was filed in Federal Court last week at Grand Rapids in the traffic death of a Mount Vernon and National Guardsman, who was killed on summer maneuvers at Grayling.

The victim was Robert Schenk, father of four, who was fatally injured when his Jeep was struck by a truck-trailer driven by Edward Fox of Hillman. The accident occurred on County Road 617 on Aug. 17, 1962.

Residing in the driver's seat was also of Hillman, and Gene Hovess, Kaleva, owners of the vehicle, and Packaging Corp. of America, to whom the truck was under lease, are named as defendants in the suit filed by Mary H. Schenk, widow of the guardsman.

Grayling Vikings To Travel To Charlevoix For Friday Night Game

The Grayling Vikings are slated for the long trek west this Friday night to meet the Charlevoix Rayders who hold a conference record of one tie and a loss the same as Grayling. Both the Vikings and Rayders played the East Jordan Red Devils to a 6-6 tie while Charlevoix was dropped by Harbor Springs 19 to 13 in the first conference game of the season and the Vikings bowed to the Rams 24 to 0 last Friday.

In that the game is on the Charlevoix home field, a slight edge must be given to the Rayders. Fraser Dean's charges, though, if back in top physical shape should give Charlevoix plenty of fight.

181 Attend Township Officers' Meeting Here

One of the most successful Township Officers' meetings ever held in the Northern Michigan Area, was held at the Grayling High School, on Tuesday, September 29, 1964.

Bernard J. Fowler, Supervisor of Grayling Township and Director of the Tenth Congressional District (Northern Area) reports that a grand total of 181 Township Officers from the counties of Alcona, Alpena, Antrim, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Crawford, Emmet, Kalkaska, Montmorency, Oscoda, Otsego and Presque Isle, were in attendance.

Following registration the meeting got underway at 10:30 a. m. and after brief welcomes from William T. Miller, Chairman of the Crawford County Board of Supervisors and the Chamber of Commerce Representative, Rep. Clark F. Most of Cheboygan County was introduced and spoke on the 1964 Session of the Michigan Legislature.

At noon a hearty lunch was served at the American Legion Hall, with the Township Officers returning to Grayling High School at 1:15 p. m.

Two separate sessions were conducted in the first part of the afternoon. One session was for Supervisors and Treasurers, who met with Mr. Carl Aldrich, of the Veterans Homestead Tax Exemption Division of the Michigan Auditor-General Department. The other session was for Township Clerks, who met with Mr. Tom Bradford of the Elections Division, Office of the Michigan Secretary of State.

The closing session, which adjourned at 3:30 p. m. was devoted to a Question-and-Answer Period, in which numerous and varied questions involving Township Government were discussed.

Said Mr. Fowler, at the close of the meeting, "the enthusiasm displayed here today is indicative of the concern of Township Officials, who want to do the best job possible for the citizens of their Townships."

Indications are that the meeting will again be held in Grayling next year.

OPEN HOUSE NEW SCHOOL

The public is invited to attend an open house at Grayling's new elementary school Sunday, Oct. 11th at 2:00 p. m. in the multi-purpose room.

Following the program refreshments will be served by members of the P-T-A and those attending are invited to tour the building.

Study Community College Further

The feasibility study organized by representatives of Crawford, Ogemaw, Oscoda and Roscommon to determine if the area needs, wants and can adequately support a community college is beyond the planning stage and has become a fact.

Parents of fourth and eleventh grade students and the eleventh grade students themselves have received questionnaires which they were asked to fill out and return to the students teachers or to the schools involved.

The Community College possibility is being studied as a practical solution to an explosive college enrollment and because a community is best served by citizens who develop their talents and abilities to the utmost.

It should also be pointed out that the biggest cost factor of an education is housing. Community Colleges are so situated that all students in the area are with in commuting distance so parents can provide post-high school education for their children who might otherwise not be able to do so.

A community college can also provide vocational as well as academic training which is sorely needed in the sparsely populated areas.

Fire Department Plans Resuscitation Class

The Grayling Fire Department has scheduled a class on mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to be held in the Elementary school multi-purpose room on October 12th at 7 p. m. A State Police instructor will demonstrate with the aid of a beautiful blonde young lady who will play the part of the victim, who will also oblige in practice with those attending the class.

Bay Scouts, personnel from Mercy Hospital, and all County Home Extension groups will attend the class, and the public is also cordially invited.

This method of resuscitation may be used on victims of heart attacks, suffocation from smoke or drowning, or carbon monoxide. It is the latest approved method and is simple to learn. It can keep a person alive while help is being summoned, and very often will revive victims completely.

Two Persons Injured In Monday Accident

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Colleen of Grayling received injuries in a two-car collision in Beaver Creek Township Monday afternoon.

Ralph, 75, and his wife, Sadie, 65, both were taken to Grayling Mercy Hospital for treatment. State Police of the Houghton Lake Post who investigated stated the accident occurred at 3:50 on M-76 and M-18 about eight-tenths of a mile north of Fletcher Road.

The car driven by Colleen was about to enter the highway when the second car driven by Mary Carlson, 53, of Roscommon approached. She stated to investigating officers that she didn't believe Colleen was going to stop before entering the highway and applied her brakes, the car went into a skid, left the highway and struck the Colleen's car. Colleen stated to investigating officers that he did stop and that his car was at a standstill.

The Viking jayvees will entertain the Grayling reserves Tuesday night of this week here for their second contest of the season.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NEEDS TOYS

The new elementary school needs large toys that can be used by the kindergarten and first grade classes.

The children have time to play while waiting for buses and also during the noon hour.

Such items as wagons, wheel barrows, buggies, dolls, play furniture, large beads for stringing or what have you would be greatly appreciated.

Manelona Youth Arrested On Larceny Charge

Paul D. Smigowski, 18 or rural Manelona was arrested by chief Deputy Sheriff William Golinick last Saturday on a charge of larceny.

Smigowski was apprehended by Sgt. Leo Hivela at the tank maintenance site at the Grayling Manelona Air Base where he allegedly was taking gasoline out of a parked government jeep.

He was examined before Justice of the Peace Olin Williamson Monday and entered a plea of not guilty. Bond was set at $200 which was furnished. Smigowski will face trial on the charge in the near future.

Grayling's Two Leonard Stations Win Citations

The two Leonard service stations operated in Grayling, the Northend Leonard and the Southend Leonard both located on I-75 business loop, were awarded citations on the Michigan Outdoors television show on Thursday of last week.

The citations are awarded to outstanding service stations whose service, cleanliness and extra attention to detail is evident. Corliss Stamply accepted the citation plaque for the Northend station while his daughter, Marilyn accepted the citation for the Southend station. John Stamply who operates the Southend station had his sister stand in for him because the date was Oct. 1 and John was ... where else ... out hunting.

The Seventeenth Annual running of the AuSable River Valley Canoe Race last weekend held an overtone of melancholy due to the tragic death of Henry Feldhauser of Albion, a native of Grayling.

Young Feldhauser lost his life by drowning in Lake Margrethe last Friday afternoon during the pole position race. His heroic but fatal deed occurred when he dove off a pontoon boat when a competing canoe overturned and tipped the two occupants into the icy waters.

Tom Gildersleeve and Ron Hohman, both of Oscoda, were struggling in the lake water when Feldhauser went to their rescue.

Feldhauser, himself a racer on only six years ago, swam to their aid, grabbing one of the struggling men and assisting him to a boat operated by William Simpson of Lake Margrethe.

Feldhauser then disappeared beneath the waters. He reappeared, called for help and his brother-in-law, Derek McEvers of Grayling, who was on the pontoon boat dove in to aid him. When he started to swim to where Feldhauser had been, he had disappeared.

Grayling Bank Sponsors Red Cross Coffee

The Grayling State Bank sponsored a coffee hour at Chief Shoppengans Motor Hotel on Monday afternoon for the Red Cross. Drive in Crawford County. Twenty five workers were present.

Mrs. Les Goss, 1964-65 campaign chairman welcomed those present and turned the meeting over to Paul Jacobs, of Cadillac, district representative for this area. He spoke of the need for funds to carry on the Red Cross program. Nationally, millions of dollars are presently being spent to help people in the areas devastated by hurricanes. He told of the programs carried on locally also, such as the blood program and home service and the need of other programs.

Heading the list of the needed are first aid, swimming and water safety and a museum aid program.

Mrs. Leo Jorgenson, chapter secretary and home service chairman related some incidents having to do with home service.

Not enough can be said of the good that Red Cross can do with the help of the people. Red Cross helps ... with your help.

Mrs. Robert Strong was chairman of the meeting in the absence of the county chairman, Mrs. Derek McEvers.

Martel Bohennmeyer, Grayling High School senior and daughter of the Donald Bohennmeyer of Grayling, was crowned as Miss 1965 Crawford County Auto Queen at a luncheon held at the Arrowhead Inn last Saturday noon. Officiating at the coronation was Alfred Hanson of Grayling, a pioneer Crawford County auto dealer, now retired.

On the new Queen's Court are: Karen Mauren, daughter of the Arnold Mauren and Connie Renauds, daughter of the Joseph Renauds. Both girls are also seniors at Grayling High.

Smorgasbord At St. Mary's Sunday

St. Mary's Ladies will serve a Smorgasbord Sunday, the 11th, from 1 to 6 p. m. at St. Mary's Hall, Mrs. Jim Bourrie and Mrs. Jim Duley, co-chairman, have planned a menu to suit everyone. The price is very modest. Everyone is invited to come, and even orders for takeouts will be accepted.

The second canoeist made it to safety with a life preserver someone threw to him.

The mishap occurred about one-half mile from shore shortly after the pole position race got underway about 2:15 p. m. State Police skin divers recovered the body about 6:30 p. m. Friday evening.

It was the second drowning in the canoe race's history. In 1953, Jerry Curley, son of Harry Curley of Oscoda, a longtime race official, drowned in Lake Huron while practicing in a canoe for the big race. A trophy in his honor has been awarded the winning team since then.

Only 11 of 22 two-man teams which started completed the 10-mile pole position race Friday. At least four were swamped at the start due to the choppy water.

Irving Peterson of Minneapolis, Minnesota who teamed with Ron Hohman to win last year's race, this year was yoked with Ralph Sawyer of AuSable. They won the pole position race Friday, started the big race Saturday morning in first place and held on for a 15 minute lead at Mio on Saturday afternoon. Again Sunday morning, theirs was the first canoe to hit the water ... and the first over the finish line at Oscoda on Sunday afternoon.

Twenty-six two-man teams left Grayling in almost perfect weather Saturday morning, but as they continued down the twisting AuSable, they can into stiff winds. At least seven of the teams dropped out in the first leg of the two-day race.

The winning duo stroked the two hundred and forty mile distance in 15 hours, six minutes and five seconds to better the course record set in 1963 by almost three minutes.

Al and Pat Widling, of Holly, finished second at Lake Margrethe and also finished second at Oscoda, taking home $600 for their efforts.

The 1961 race took on a true international flavor with Canadian teams finishing third and fifth. Gib McEachern and Norm Cramer of Manitoba, finished second at Oscoda but were declared third-place winners on corrected time, while Charles H. Versteeg of Ronulus and Gene Beaumier of St. George, Quebec took fifth place.

Paddling to fourth position following a first leg sixth were Ed Wojahn and Gerald Lauwers of Tawas. Other racers collecting portions of the $2,500 total prize money provided by Consumers Power Co. were: sixth, Blaine Brown, Roseville, and Jack Kolka, Grayling; seventh, Ed Adams of Fenton and Carl Ketter of Minneapolis; eighth, Jack Kent of Atlanta and Robert Gillings of Lansing; ninth, Richard Kliskis and Jon Baker, both of Ann Arbor; and tenth, Ronald Baldorff of Lansing and Wayne Richardson of Garden City.

Hohman and Gildersleeve involved in the Friday mishap, finished eighth in the Saturday competition but pulled out at Alcona Dam on the final day. Both are former first-place winners of the world's championship race.

Observers felt that the Friday incident had taken its toll of the strong paddlers, and Hohman confided in friends Sunday after withdrawing from competition, that the ordeal had been physically demanding and emotionally upsetting. Gildersleeve, now a resident of California and in Michigan for the race, was visibly shaken by the experience.

One of Oscoda's favorite teams, Stanley Hall and Ron Raynak, paddled to a third-place pole position and finished third at Mio, only to puncture their boat Sunday and drop from the race. The duo finished strong in many 1964 races, and in 1963 Hall was named top paddler on a point system by the Michigan Canoe Racing Association.

Chimaging furious competition on the river, was the presentation of trophies, cups medals and checks, held at the Oscoda Township Hall. Walt Nowak acted as master of ceremonies.

Col. Bruce Knudson, 379th Combat Support Group commander, at nearby Wurtsmith Air Force Base, presented the trophies, and the Consumers Power Company cups while Louis Vaupre of Bay City, head of the Consumers Power Company district which includes the AuSable River Valley, presented the prize money.

General race chairmen were Eric Post, Grayling, Eldon Federson, Mio, and Harry Curley, Oscoda.

Harvest 26,000 Cords of Wood From District Forest

Private timber operators harvested 26,000 cords of wood from the District of the Huron National Forest in 1961, which is partly in Crawford County, according to J. K. Adams, District Ranger. Much of this harvest was used for making various paper products while the remainder provided sawtimber and pallet stock, for local saw and pallet mills.

Twelve large sales totaling 11,000 cords were advertised in local papers and sold to bidders. Nine-

COUNTY RECEIVES OVER $3,000 FROM FOREST

A check totaling $61,715.57 was mailed recently from the U. S. Treasury to the Michigan State Treasurer. This represents 25% of the annual income for the fiscal year that ended June 30, 1961, from the Huron-Manistee National Forests. The income is derived from sales of timber and permit fees charged for special uses of National Forest Lands. This represents a 15% increase over fiscal year 1960 when $53,339.22 was returned to the counties. The state distributes this annual dividend among its counties that contain national forest land. The counties' share, determined by the acreage of National forest land, is spent on county schools and roads. In addition, the Forest Service spends ten percent on forest roads. Crawford County's share this year will be $3,338.17.

Forest Supervisor, L. A. Pommeroy, pointed out that in addition to the money turned in to the U. S. Treasury, and the 25% returned to the counties, national forests contribute in many ways, economically and otherwise, to the betterment of this land and its people.

What They Try To Do...

This, your Hometown Weekly Newspaper, invites you to observe National Newspaper Week with us next week from October 11 to 17. It is set aside to remind Americans of a right, basic in this country: The Right To Know!

To be of genuine importance to people, newspapers must be free. People are not free where the press is gagged. So, it makes a big difference in people's lives whether or not their newspapers are free.

The predominate difference between the free and Red dominated police-state citizens is "The Right To Know."

During National Newspaper Week, we wish to pause a moment from our busy daily routine and say — Thanks — because if weren't for each of you it would be impossible for us to publish a newspaper.

Thanks to our Readers: We extend our thanks for your interest in the Avalanche as evidenced by your rapid response to our renewal notices.

Thanks to our Advertisers: For your confidence in investing your advertising dollars with us. Your support has enabled us to give the people of this county a newspaper which is comparable to those printed in much larger communities.

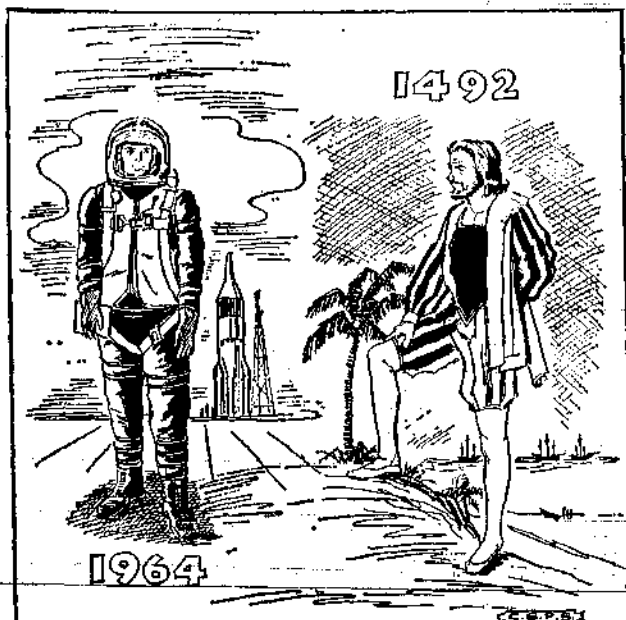

Thanks to our Correspondents: for your fine job of reporting the happenings in your respective areas of Crawford County. These items of local interest are a great asset to our newspaper.

Thanks to all Others: Who have assisted us during the past year by bringing in news or pictures, or have helped us in any way to give a more complete and accurate coverage in this area. The Avalanche depends upon this support if it is to continue as a successful operation.

What is a Newspaper?

A newspaper is an industry... and the Avalanche is the only news media in the world that publishes in Crawford County, that has a payroll in Crawford County, that pays taxes in Crawford County, that helps support civic enterprises in Crawford County, that prints the news of Crawford County, that is honestly interested in better business in Crawford County. A newspaper is what its readers and supporters want it to be. R.W.S.

Home Extension News

The Northwoods Home Extension Group met at the home of Mrs. Edward Kucharek on Sept. 29 with nine members present.

Our lesson was on Food and People. It was presented by Mrs. Clayton Papendick and Mrs. Clayton Hildebrand. We were shown slides about the world's population in comparison to the amount of food that we have. We did not realize how many of the world's population go to bed hungry every night, including children.

Our next meeting will be on Oct. 12 at 7 p. m. at the new school. After our lesson on mouth-to-mouth breathing, given by the State Police, we will go to the home of Mrs. Clinton Bancroft.

The penny prize was won by Mrs. John Wilcox.

Stop-Over Points for Geese

Come late March, sounds of honking geese herald another flurry of northward migrations at these three spots in southern Michigan - Fish Point state game area, Shiawassee Flats wildlife management area, and Fish Point wildlife area. Through early April, thousands of the big birds will touch down at these areas to rest and feed, offering sightseers a great outdoor spectacle. Refreshed and refueled, most of the honkers will have taken off again by mid-April, flying high, wide and handsome to their favorite nesting places in northern Michigan and the Hudson Bay region of Canada. Before they leave, why not take your family to one of these areas to enjoy this colorful springtime spectacle? It's free for the looking - Mich. Dept. of Conservation

Crawford County Bill For Accidents, $839,000 A Year

(Special to the Avalanche)

NEW YORK — For the average Crawford County resident, what are the chances of going through an entire year without an accident of some sort?

On the basis of a survey of accident records in all parts of the country, made by the U. S. Public Health Service, the odds locally are poorer than in most communities in the United States.

Taken into account in the survey were all types of accidents, including those sustained at work, in the home, while driving, swimming, boating, hunting and flying. Of all of them, home accidents are the most frequent.

The report shows there were 5 fatalities among residents of Crawford County from accidents during the year ending January 1, 1963. Of these automobile mishaps were responsible for 2.

The figures refer to all accidents involving local residents, even if they happened elsewhere. Not included, however, were local accidents affecting non-residents.

From the standpoint of population, Crawford County's toll was relatively high. It was equivalent to a rate of 93 fatal accidents per 100,000 people.

By way of comparison, the rate in the rest of the United States amounted to 52 per 100,000. It was 45 per 100,000 in the State of Michigan.

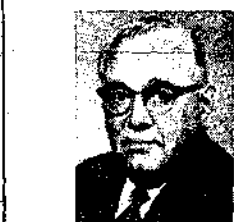

The National Safety Council, which is preparing to convene in Chicago to consider the recent sharp rise in fatal accidents, notes that more than 10 million persons in the United States suffered injuries in the past year that disabled them for more than a single day.

It finds that there are approximately 100 such accidents for every one that ends in a fatality.

The annual cost of accidents in this country has reached enormous proportions. The National Safety Council places it at $16.3 billion for 1963.

This takes into account property damage, lost wages, medical costs, drop in productivity and the like. Crawford County's share of this cost, applying locally the average amount per accident, is estimated at $839,000.

Carole Desso, whose birthday falls on Sept. 27th, celebrated it the following day, Sunday, with a Hawaiian luau party for twelve young ladies. Her parents, the John Desses, had sent to Hawaii for the decorations to make it official, and these included netting, on which were fastened tropical fish, pineapple, with heavy cording to tie the net. Lanterns, pottery tiki gods, and hula girls were also a part of the setting. Favors were plastic leis in different colors, and hibiscus blooms. The guests came in mums. The party had been planned for outdoors but the weather failed to cooperate, so the meal was served inside at a table decorated with huge leaves native to Hawaii. Chopsticks were used instead of forks for the supper, which combined familiar and Hawaiian food successfully. The party ended with a hula contest, won by Ruth Ann Meeker and Linda Kemp.

Others winning prizes: Nancy Fenton, Christine Carlson, Jeanette Skolasky and Betty McLeod. Miniature ukuleles for lapel pins, records, hair bows and tiny chairs with pin cushion seats were the prizes awarded. The hostess, Carole, received many lovely gifts which will make her 16th birthday long-remembered.

Roy McEvers has a position with the school system in Grand Rapids and has been there the past month.

Mr. and Mrs. Lacey Stephan returned home last Wednesday after enjoying a trip to Chesterfield, Wis., Minnesota, North and South Dakota and the Black Hills where they saw the monuments of the presidents. Returning home via Marquette they helped their son Lacey celebrate his 20th birthday on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lather of Grand Rapids were on a color tour of the north and stopped at the Avalanche Thursday to inquire about people and places in town.

Mr. Lather mentioned that he, while with the firm of George Lather, General Contractors and Builders, Traverse City, had helped to build the present high school in 1916; also Shoppenagons Inn, Dr. Keyport's home; the T. Hanson home, several at Camp Grayling and at Lake Margrethe. The high school was built for $45,000, he said. The firm operated in Grayling from 1916 through 1919.

Mr. Lather retired three years ago from a position as inspector with the Davern Company which built the new Grayling elementary school.

Superintendent Joseph Stripe was in Grayling September 29th to attend a meeting of school superintendents of this area and Education Committee of the legislature in regard to school aid.

SUN LIFE OF CANADA

GRAYLING . . . 50 YEARS AGO

By Helmut Bay

I arrived in Grayling in the fall of 1914 on the Michigan Central. It was a dreary, rainy day. On inquiring, I found that the Salling Hanson Company office was only a few hundred yards from the station; so I walked over and introduced myself to that grand old man, Rasmus Hanson.

Grayling, at the time, was a focal point of the logging industry, a division spot on the railroad, and vastly different from the tourist center that it has become.

Hanson sent me to the Hanson House, located a few blocks north of Main street, facing the railroad. It was a sort of boarding house for mill workers, most of whom were Danes.

Next day Hanson invited me to lunch where I met his wife, Margrethe (Portage Lake is named after her) who lived to the great age of over 100 years. He then told me to look around the town and "get my feet on the ground."

The office was run by Billy Raee, a strict but pleasant man who took care of all accounts and whose advice was always heeded.

A few feet east of the office was the Company store, managed by Nick Schatz, a jovial and personable man who later established his own business.

West of the office was the Sorenson establishment consisting of a candy and sporting goods store plus a furniture store. Herluf was still active when I was in Grayling in 1980.

The sheriff was Bill Cody, a kind-hearted man who, when a hung-over lumberjack had eaten enough to be a burden to the jail, would release him so that he could find someone to pay his fine.

There were two sawmills in Grayling at that time — the old mill just south of the AuSable River and the other one at T. Town where the present Grayling airport is located. It was managed by T. Hanson (I never knew his first name). There was also a planing mill and a flooring factory.

R. Hanson inspected his properties every day by making the rounds in a horse and buggy. He later acquired an electric "showcase" which he drove around.

Many years afterwards, he bought a Buick, and Tony Nelson used to drive him around. Tony later became a top man in the State Highway Department.

There is one other man who stands out in my memory. Rube Babbit, the game warden. He had a black beard, piercing brown eyes, and his heart and soul were in the preservation of game and wild life. A great man.

So much for that. A few days after my sojourn in Grayling, Hanson sent me up to Camp 2, east of Grayling, near the Pigeon River. I went by log-train and there met Chris Johnson, the foreman, who had (as most of Hanson's other foremen) received his logging tutelage from Hans Mason (the Bear), one of the old man's earliest loggers. I was to be the camp clerk and scaler; the last named "art" I had learned at forestry school.

Billy Mantz, Chris' scaler was leaving, but spent a week with me to show me how the Company records were kept. Billy was a comical character, and we bunked together. When we would go to bed at night, Billy would put on his necktie, and take it off in the morning. Every two hours, he would light his pipe, filled with Peerless, which anesthetized me so that I slept soundly every night.

The cook at Camp 2 was Otto Montel (he should have been the chef at the Waldorf Astoria); he was a master. At that time, it was a rule that there should be no conversation at the eating table except to ask for dishes to be passed, and when a stranger who didn't know this law began to talk, only a word and sharp look from big Otto would silence him.

Otto later superintended the erection of the buildings (and was their caretaker) at the Hartwick Pines.

About six weeks later, I got a message from Hanson through the "walking boss", Henry Bauman, to go to a camp northwest of Wolverine to scale for Jappe Smith. It was a winter operation. We hauled the logs on sleighs over ice roads to Merritt siding, a short distance north of Rondo, where we loaded them on flat cars and shipped them to Grayling on the Michigan Central. The first load generally left the logging area at about 5 A.M., and the last load at about 9 P.M.

As scaler, I had to go out with the first load and come in with the last, so that all in all, it was a fairly long day. It meant a hike

Rev. ROBERT M. HARPER
MOON SHOT

THERE IS a story of a little black dog of growing age that was missed one night and was found outside, barking furiously at a glorious full moon. Perhaps the little dog had noticed the full moon for the first time, I do not know, but the story is that the moon kept shining.

As these lines are written on the day the pictures that have come from the widely-publicized moon shot, I am reminded that for all that has been done to the moon, the beautiful orb keeps shining on and shining on. And we may be thankful for that.

But we are left all the declared benefits of the moon shot and to wonder how the values of the effort can be computed in dollars and cents of the millions that have been spent in this moon-shot business.

Certainly we do not need to confirm that there is no "man in the moon" and that there ARE multiplied millions of men on our earth and that they are now acting up. And slowly comes a hungry as a lion creeping higher, glares at one that nods and winks behind a slowly-dying fire.

of 10 to 12 miles daily. During that winter, Jappe Smith and I became very close friends. Our association and friendship is one of the greatest memories of my life. His devoted wife, Louise, and her children, spend their summers on the north side of Lake Margrethe, and I hope that the day will soon come when I can spend a season with them. In retrospect, all I can say is — thank God I went to Grayling.
